About the Retreat...

BirdCone is a fictitious business used to show you an example of what can be put together for you to host a weekend retreat at the Grand Fir Lodge in Suncadia. This area of the brochure is used to describe the weekend retreat to your potential guests. There are 15 individual beds at the Grand Fir that can be "sold" individually or however you would like to make your offering for your special weekend. The creation of this custom brochure and optional associated registration web page is produced for no additional charge as a benefit of using the Grand Fir Lodge for your event. The prices per bed are established and collected by you the host. There is a fixed lodging cost per guest by the owner of the Grand Fir Lodge.

This is the area of the brochure where a description of your retreat would go. If you have any special guests, perhaps a picture of them and an explanation of what they will cover. You can have a retreat schedule as shown on the other page of this brochure example or don't include it in the brochure - it is completely up to you the host how you want to present the retreat offering.
